

A Sound and Solid Banking Sector

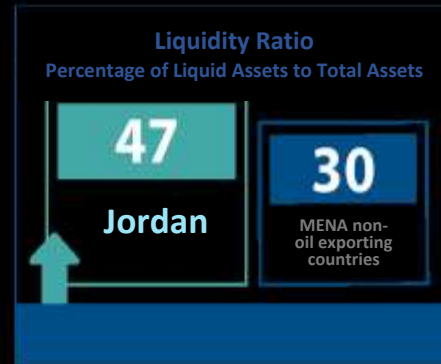

The size of banking sector assets is considered large compared to the size of the economy by 261% of the gross domestic product

One of the highest rates in the region

- Capital Adequacy ratio measures the banks' ability to bear losses and consequently protect depositors' funds

- The higher liquidity ratio the higher the safety ratio and the banks' ability to finance the economy

